NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Strike: National Assembly Wades Into ASUU, Federal Government Dispute; Information Credibility- A2

The House of Representatives on Tuesday, October 14, 2025, reportedly urged the Federal Government and the Academic Staff Union of Universities to urgently return to the negotiating table to resolve the ongoing dispute that led to the declaration of a two-week warning strike by the union. The House's resolution followed the adoption of a motion of urgent public importance moved by the member representing Badagry Federal Constituency of Lagos State, Oluwaseun Whingham, during plenary. ASUU had on Monday begun a two-week warning strike over the Federal Government's alleged failure to address long-standing issues, including the implementation of the 2009 ASUU-FGN Agreement, revitalisation funding, earned academic allowances, salary structure, and university autonomy.

MARITIME/OIL & GAS DEVELOPMENT

Crude Oil Prices Struggle To Maintain $62 Per Barrel; Information Credibility- A2

Oil prices, including both WTI and Brent crude, fell by over 2% due to lingering concerns over the trade war between the United States and China and its potential impact on the global economy. The trade tensions escalated after China sanctioned five U.S. subsidiaries of South Korean shipbuilder Hanwha Ocean, citing their support for U.S. probes against Chinese maritime sectors. These renewed tensions, coupled with an expected record glut in the oil markets, are adding to concerns about global oil demand and could lead to further price declines. As of yesterday, Brent Crude was trading below the $62 a barrel mark, and was down by 2.02% at $62.04. It rose to $62.54 yesterday evening amidst uncertainty in the market. Another report indicated that Brent dropped more than 6% so far in October, deepening the year-to-date decline to over 17% in 2025. Oil, which began the year around $74 per barrel, now struggles at $62 as it tries to hold above the $60 mark.

International Monetary Fund (IMF) Revises Nigeria's Growth Upward On Oil Gains, Trade Resilience; Information Credibility- A2

The International Monetary Fund has revised Nigeria's economic growth outlook upward, projecting a 3.9 per cent GDP expansion in 2025, attributing this growth to higher oil production, more substantial investor confidence, and a more supportive fiscal stance as key drivers. The updated figures, contained in the IMF's latest World Economic Outlook titled 'Global Economy in Flux. Prospects Remain Dim', released on Tuesday, reflects a 0.5 percentage point increase from its previous forecast and signals renewed optimism about the country's medium-term economic prospects. In July, the IMF revised Nigeria's economic growth projection for 2025 upward to 3.4

per cent, a 0.4 percentage point increase from the 3.0 per cent forecast published in its April 2025 World Economic Outlook.

In a statement issued on Tuesday, October 14, 2025, the airline revealed that the new service will operate from both Lagos and Abuja to Kotoka International Airport, Accra, marking United Nigeria Airlines' first regional route beyond Nigeria's borders. Speaking in Lagos, Mazi Osita Okonkwo, the Chief Operating Officer, described the launch as a significant milestone in the airline's expansion strategy. "Ghana is an important part of our regional growth plan. This marks our first operation outside Nigeria, and we are truly excited about it," Okonkwo said. "Over the past four years, United Nigeria Airlines has built a strong reputation for safety, regulatory compliance, exceptional customer service, and on-time performance, values we are committed to extending across all regional and international routes.

POLITICS

PDP Senators Shrink To 27 As APC Secures Two-Third Majority; Information Credibility- A3

The number of senators on the platform of the Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) has reportedly dropped from 28 to 27 following the defection of Senator Kaila Dahuwa Samaila (Bauchi North) to the ruling All Progressives Congress (APC) on Tuesday. His defection has enabled the ruling APC to secure a two-thirds majority in the Senate, after it attained a total of 73 lawmakers. Kaila, in a letter addressed to the President of the Senate, Godswill Akpabio, and read during plenary, cited the prolonged internal crises within the PDP as the primary reason for his defection. He said the recurring factionalisation and lack of direction in the opposition party had “gravely constrained” his ability to serve his constituents effectively and in good conscience.

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

Madagascar Military Announces Takeover After President’s Impeachment; Information Credibility- A3

In a dramatic escalation of Madagascar’s political crisis, Colonel Michael Randrianirina of an elite military unit announced Tuesday that the armed forces are taking control of the country. The statement followed a parliamentary vote to impeach President Andry Rajoelina, who has reportedly fled the country amid a growing rebellion within the military. “We are establishing a national reform mechanism that responds to the aspirations of the Malagasy people,” Randrianirina declared in front of the presidential palace. According to him, the existing government structures listed in the 2010 constitution were being dissolved to restore democracy and rebuild public trust. Despite the takeover, Randrianirina confirmed that the National Assembly would continue its functions. He outlined a new transitional structure, which includes a joint presidency, a functioning government, and judicial reform led by the Supreme Constitutional Court.

Bangladesh Garment Factory Fire Kills At Least 16; Information Credibility- A3

At least 16 people were reportedly killed after a massive fire broke out at a garment factory in Bangladesh, with officials warning that the toll could rise. According to the fire service, sixteen bodies have been recovered and will be handed to families after DNA testing, as they have been burnt beyond recognition. Distraught relatives gathered outside the four-storey factory in Dhaka's Mirpur area on Tuesday, October 14, 2025, in search of their loved ones still missing. The blaze, which broke out at the factory around midday, was extinguished after three hours. But an adjacent chemical warehouse reportedly continued to burn.
